

Sean Hawkins Congratulates DFW Business Center for Recognition as Key Location for Corporate Relocation

ASI Capital's Income fund made a strategic investment in a unique, on-airport property in early 2016 to provide for renovations and leasing of the vacant former airport administration offices. This project, the DFW Business Center, continues to increase occupancy levels, and is attracting quality tenants that are able to thrive thanks to the unique proximity to the DFW airport.

ASI Capital's managing partners Clem M. Borkowski and Sean A. Hawkins congratulates the DFW Business Center for being recognized as an ideal location for corporate relocations according to DMagazine.
